Onslow Thompson has joined the lo-hereafter.

Carpenter says he hopes to be back in the game by Saturday. His finger is still sore and he says he cannot grasp a bat well yet.

We are no longer in the cellar position. Greenfield played and lost yesterday and Brattleboro did not play.
That's the answer.

Joe Harrington was in Fitchburg Tuesday in an effort to get Johnny Bosk to join the Bellows Falls club, but the Sentinel of that city says "it is doubtful if Johnny will get into league company for a while. He is satisfied with his work in this city, where he is pitching from one to two games each week, and will stick to Sellers till the end of the year, according to his present plans. When Bosk gets ready to tackle league ball again he will probably give Utica first chance on his services, as that club used him pretty white and still has a claim on him."

CHAMPS BREAK INTO TIE FOR FIRST

Paul Effective Against Greenfield
While Sager and Shellenberger Are Frequently Found.

(Special to The Reformer.)

NORTHAMPTON, July 17.—Pitching well in the pinches Paul won his third straight game for Northampton yesterday by defeating Greenfield 4 to 2. Shellenberger and Sager were both ineffective and Northampton were down the lead Greenfield assumed in the fourth and won out in the eighth.

The scoring opened in the fourth inning. Manager Conroy of Greenfield banged one into deep left field and took two bases for a starter. Keegan promptly singled, bringing Conroy to third. Weigold grounded out. Paul to Goodrich and Keegan stole second. Mahoney then rapped out a single, a pop out for the infielders, who were playing in. Conroy and Keegan counting.
Paul tightened up and struck out May-forth and Shellenberger. The Larks went to a good start in their half of the same inning, when Goodrich singled, and Roharge sacrificed. King scored Goodrich with a single to left field, but overran first base and was tagged out.

Hamp took one more in the sixth and evened up the tally. With two out Roharge was called safe when Umpire Foley discovered that Conroy's foot was off the initial sack. He stole and scored on King's second single.
A hit by Paul and a base on balls induced Shellenberger to forsake the mound in the seventh inning in favor of Sager. Sager got by in the seventh but a hot time fell to his lot in the next section. Goodrich got an infield safety and for the second time he was sacrificed by Roharge. King brought him to third on a one-sacker, and Goodrich tallied on a passed ball by Macfarlane. Parle was passed and Francis hit a sacrifice fly to Ryan, scoring King. Paul then hit safely but Parle was nabbed at the plate on a perfect throw from Ryan. The score:

RED CROSS SEALS.

Sale in 1912 was 40,000,000 — New Style of Design this Year.

Orders for printing 100,000,000 Red Cross Christmas seals for use during the holiday season this year have already been placed and preparations for the sale are well under way, according to an announcement made from the New York campaign headquarters today.

Over 40,000,000 or $400,000 worth of seals were sold in 1912, a gain of nearly 25 per cent over the previous year.
Because of the deep interest in the anti-tuberculosis movement for which the seals are sold, the American Red Cross and The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis who conduct the sale, hope to reach the 50,000,000 mark this year, netting $500,000 for the prevention of consumption.

A radical departure from previous seals in the shape and character of the design will be instituted this year. The seal will be rectangular in shape, one and one-half inches wide and one inch deep. The center of the design will depict Santa Claus with his eight reindeer dashing across a field of snow, and the border will be a brilliant red and green decoration of poinsettias and holly, the Red Cross emblem appearing on either side.

The design was drawn by C. J. Budd of New York, the well-known illustrator, who was awarded a prize of $100 for his drawing. The second prize, $50, was awarded to R. Foster Worthley of New York and the third to Miss Hazel de Berard of Brooklyn. Miss Sara B. Hill of New York was given honorable mention.

Distribution of the seals will be started about September 1 and by December 1 it is expected that the entire 100,000,000 will be distributed. If more are needed, an additional supply will be printed. In addition to the seals themselves, advertising material to the amount of several million pieces is also being prepared. The campaign this year will be organized in almost every city and town of the United States, and no less than 100,000 agents will give their services to the work.

ATHLETICS AND GIANTS MAY MEET

Looks as If Two Teams Will Clash In World Series.

MACKMEN OUTCLASS RIVALS

Philadelphia Has Better Infield, Outfield, Batters and Base Runners.
Giants Have Stronger Pitching Staff.
Mack Using Clever Methods.

By TOMMY CLARK.

When the Giants and the Athletics come together in the world's series this fall (how's that for predicting it?) one can hardly have good reasons to back the Giants' end of the argument.
The team is outclassed by the Mack-men in every department but pitching. The Athletics have a better infield, outer garden and catching department than the New Yorkers. They also are heavier hitters, better base runners and fielders than McGraw's outfit.

New York is well fixed for twirlers.
Mathewson, Marquard, Tesreau, Dem-are, Fromme, Witte and Crandall are all in better shape than any in the league and capable of twirling good ball.

The Athletics' pitching has not been the best all season. The Mackmen have won the great majority of their games by main strength of batting.
Mack has such offensive strength that he can worry along in pitching relays and keep well in front playing a game a day.

Mack has handled his pitchers in clever style all season and has resorted to all kinds of tricks. Here is one he pulled off on Washington recently: Before a recent game Mack had Bender and Plank warming up before the players' bench, indicating that one or the other would pitch. In the meantime, Joe Bush was behind the grandstand loosening up his arm. The Bender-Plank display was for the purpose of drawing Johnson out of Griffith, and it succeeded, but as soon as Johnson had been announced Mack switched to Bush, not wanting to take a chance of having one of his two stars beaten by Johnson, reserving them for an easier game, thus making their games certain victories, is the way he figured.

As it happened, Bush won his game, and, though Bender had to be used at the finish, it left him (Mack) Plank and Bender to be used in the remaining games.

Mack has made remarkable improvement in the work of his young pitchers. None of them are stars, but he has taught them enough to have them formidable for five or six innings any-<
